Full job description

Your new company

Hays has partnered with one of Australia's best automotive supplier, and with their increase in demand they are seeking new talent to help drive their business.

Your new role

Your role is a 6 month project with potential to grow within the business. As the supply planner your duties will be production scheduling, inventory management and operation planning to maintain the high flow productivity of day to day demand.

What you'll need to succeed

- 3+ Years' experience in retail supply chain, logistics, inventory or similar; with a focus on planning, replenishment, and data analysis.
- Proven ERP, MRP and WMS skills.
- Advanced MS Excel & Word skills to be able to manage data in bulk (CSV upload/downloads, pivot tables, lookups and other formulas) and conversion to i.e. labelling solutions.
- Solid data analysis and data management skills.
- Strong financial acumen, reporting and analytical skills.

What you'll get in return

- Excellent above award rates.
- Positive and exciting working environments.
- Great fulltime hours with opportunity to grow within the business.
